UNDERSTANDING THE LEVELS

Program:	Summary	Travel/ Performances	Practice	Duration	Tuition Pricing
Novice	New to All-Star Cheer, while building foundational skills. Focus on learning proper techniques, basic stunts, motions, jumps, and beginner tumbling. Learn to love cheer without all the pressure.	1 in-state competition	1-2 hours per week	September - February	$120 per month
Prep	Continue to build skills while being introduced to more advanced stunts and tumbling and compete at a higher level, without the intensity of elite.	4-5 out of state competitions, multiple in-town performances.	3-4 hours per week	August - April	$140 per month
Elite	Require strong skills, dedication and consistent attendance. Will perform more advanced stunts, tumbling, routines, and will keep at a higher level against top programs. More travel, more practice time, training, and financial commitment.	7-10 out of state competitions, multiple in-town performances	6-8 hours per week	June - April	$165-$200 per month

At MCA our goal, no matter the level, every athlete is equally valued. We want to meet each athlete where they are, help them grow, and provide a positive, team-centered experience at every stage of their cheer journey.

FAQ ABOUT COMPETITIONS

Can competition schedules change, and are athletes required to attend every competition?

Competition schedules are always subject to change. While we make every effort to follow the published schedule, there are occasionally circumstances—such as event changes or cancellations—that may require adjustments.

All decisions regarding competitions are made by MCA and the coaching staff with the team's best interest in mind.

Please also note that all scheduled competitions are mandatory for athletes on the competition team, as each event is an important part of the team experience and season commitment.

What happens if our team earns a bid—do all teams go to the same end-of-season event, and are those costs included?

All Elite teams may have the opportunity to attend an end-of-season event. These events are determined by each team's age, level, and any bids earned throughout the season. Please note that one team qualifying for or attending a specific event does not automatically mean another team will attend the same event.

End-of-season events are not included in regular competition fees and will be an additional cost to families. Once a bid is earned, detailed financial information will be shared so families can plan accordingly. Potential end-of-season events may include All-Star Worlds Championship (ASWC) and other similar championships.

FAQ

Is attendance important?

Competitive cheerleading is a team sport, and consistent attendance is essential to both individual growth and team success. Practice should not be withheld as a consequence for behavior at home or school. Removing an athlete from practice not only takes away important physical activity, but also limits their opportunity to build discipline, teamwork, and other valuable life skills.

Additionally, missed practices impact coaches and teammates who rely on each athlete's participation. We ask that families choose consequences that do not interfere with team commitments. Repeated removal from practices for disciplinary reasons may result in dismissal from the team.

What if my athlete is absent? What do I need to do?

Athletes are expected to notify their coach as soon as possible if they will be absent, so arrangements can be made to adjust practice as needed. We understand that unavoidable situations may arise—such as illness, family emergencies, or school-related events—and ask that communication is provided as soon as the athlete is aware of the conflict.

Please note that attendance is especially critical leading up to competitions. Coaches reserve the right to adjust team placements for athletes who miss practices within the two weeks prior to an event. If an athlete misses a competition for any reason, they will not be eligible to receive team gifts (medals, jackets, etc.) and will not be considered for any bid-earned team placements from that event.

The following are mandatory attendance periods:

- The two weeks leading up to any competition
- Competition days
- Choreography sessions, camps, and required team events
- The months of April and May for teams attending end-of-season events

All planned absences, including vacations, must be submitted at the start of the season. Any unplanned absences should be communicated to the coach immediately upon becoming aware.

Practice Canceled for weather, coach sick, etc. what happens?

Competitive teams are guaranteed a minimum of 12 hours of practice each month. Any additional practice time provided beyond this is considered a bonus and not guaranteed.

While cancellations are rare, there may be occasional circumstances—such as illness, family emergencies, or prior obligations—that impact a coach's availability. In these situations, every effort will be made to find a qualified substitute to keep practice running as scheduled. However, if a substitute is not available, practice may need to be canceled.

Please know that all available options are carefully considered before any cancellation is made, and we appreciate your understanding and flexibility when these situations arise.

How should I communicate a concern or issue with the gym or coaching staff?

Unless there is an immediate safety concern, we ask that you allow 24 hours before sending an email regarding any issue or conflict. This gives everyone time to reflect and approach the situation with a clear and calm mindset, allowing for more productive and respectful communication.

FAQ

How will MCA/coaches communicate with athletes/parents?

MCA uses email, team Facebook pages, and our team app as the main sources of communication for all program updates. It is the responsibility of each athlete and family to stay informed about team information and announcements. Please take time to read all communications carefully before reaching out with questions.

To help ensure clear and efficient communication, we kindly ask that the team app and group messaging tools are used appropriately and not overused, so all families can rely on them as a quick and helpful information source. Emails will be responded to Monday through Friday, with the exception of Mondays following competitions.

Please use the following guidelines when contacting MCA staff:

- Athlete well-being: Team Coaches
- General concerns or questions: Team Mom
- Sensitive concerns: Team Coaches
- Fees and billing: Booster Club
- Day-of-event questions: Please check group chats and consult Team Moms before contacting coaches
- Absences: Coaches

We value open communication and want to be mindful of everyone's time, just as we ask families to be mindful of ours. We work hard to provide timely updates regarding practices, schedules, and events, and continue to improve how we communicate with our families.

Unless there is an immediate safety concern for an athlete, we kindly ask that you allow a 24-hour pause before sending an email regarding any concern or conflict. This helps ensure that all communication is approached thoughtfully, calmly, and productively for everyone involved.

What happens if there is bullying?

We maintain a zero-tolerance policy for bullying and harassment of any kind, applicable to all members of the MCA community. Our priority is to ensure that the gym remains a safe, respectful, and positive environment for every athlete and family.

If an incident occurs, the following steps will be taken:

- Written warning via email
- In-person meeting
- Dismissal from the program

These steps will be followed and enforced when necessary. Please understand that we reserve the right to remove any individual from the program at any time if it is determined to be in the best interest of maintaining a safe and respectful environment for all.

Social media?

Social media is a wonderful way to showcase and celebrate our gym and the hard work of our athletes. We ask that all parents and athletes use these platforms in a positive and respectful way when sharing content related to MCA.

Please feel free to tag us in your posts so we can celebrate and highlight the special moments within our program. We encourage the sharing of uplifting, encouraging, and supportive content that reflects the spirit of our athletes and teams.

If any concerns or issues arise, we kindly ask that they are not shared on social media. Instead, please reach out directly to the appropriate staff member listed in our Communication Policies so we can address matters privately and appropriately.

- Dismissal from the program

These steps will be followed and enforced when necessary. Please understand that we reserve the right to remove any individual from the program at any time if it is determined to be in the best interest of maintaining a safe and respectful environment for all.
